

Common Grant Application® System Adds Sweeping New Enhancements

New release of online grant management system provides document management, custom reporting, and multiple program support among many new features

Santa Monica – December 2, 2009 – Oceanpeak, Inc. announced broad and sweeping enhancements to its Common Grant Application online grant management system. The latest release provides users with new features including document management, unlimited & highly flexible custom reporting, multiple program support, custom defined evaluation rules and evaluator groups as well as full support for Letters of Inquiry.

With its unique many grantseeker to many grantmaker model, the Common Grant Application online system is an efficient way to streamline the grantmaking process for both grantmakers and grantseekers. It looks like a common application to grantseekers and an online grant management system to grantmakers.

Driven by enthusiastic customer input, the latest features may be used by private, family, and community foundations both big and small. “Users can now include such items as site visit and meeting notes in system folders of their own choosing, as well as customize and run reports using various selection, filtering and sorting parameters.” said Eric Zweigel, the company’s Director of Business Development.

“We are very excited to provide these new capabilities. Grantmakers will now be able to manage the receipt, sorting, assignment and evaluation of applications on a per program basis. This will save grantmakers time and effort. We are driven by user feedback and suggestions and have a number of new additional features that we are working on that will be available in January.” said Jeff Lawrence, company President.
